TRAVEL BRIEFINGS

As the global marketplace shrinks and companies expand globally it is essential for every organization to keep their “finger on the pulse” of potential threats, enabling them survive and thrive amidst global threats to their people, facilities and supply chain assets. PICA offers a suite of business resiliency and risk management solutions to counter the threats organizations face in their daily operations.

Through its partnership with iJET, PICA provides our clients access to the patented Worldcue® Global Control Center (GCC). This secure, web-based software application reduces our clients overall risks and costs by automating and centralizing the tools, information and processes required for effective business resiliency. Worldcue’s® driven by a highly-experienced team of world-class intelligence analysts who provided up to the minute information on potential disruptions and emerging threats in hundreds of countries around the world.

Our Travel Security and Business Resiliency services include:

- Worldcue® Global Control Center: Provides online access to a global database of location-specific intelligence, including active and archived alerts; city and country intelligence; advice; and interactive maps.
- Worldcue® Travel Risk Management: Relates global threats to traveler itineraries, enabling corporate managers to monitor, locate and contact employees on travel.
- WORLDUCUETRACKER®: Provides online access to global traveler and threat information through interactive maps, employee locator reports as well as traveler and trip profiles.
- Worldcue® Traveler: Provides employees with access to personalized Travel Intelligence® web sites, tailored to each traveler’s itinerary and profile.
